

THE PAPER

WILL BE ON SALE

FRIDAY

--THE UNIVERSITY NOTWITHSTANDING

THE PAPER had planned to appear on schedule this week, but . . .
It was learned at the last minute Wednesday night that its regular printer would no longer handle the job.

THERE IS REASON TO BELIEVE THE UNIVERSITY WAS INVOLVED in the printer's admitted attempt to blacklist THE PAPER with all printers in the area.

BUT . . .

THE PAPER is looking for printers outside the central Michigan area and expects to be ready to sell this week's issue starting Friday.

TODAY . . .

You can read the story of the latest university-inspired crisis to strike THE PAPER in the Michigan Daily, now on sale at THE PAPER's selling locations. (Ten cents contribution for THE PAPER.)
